INTRODUCTION

Purpose

The purpose of the Election Tool Kit is to introduce children in grade 5 classes and in youth groups to the basic principles of a provincial election.

Outcomes

It is expected that participants will learn terminology associated with provincial elections, as well as the concept of voting. The main message to children is that voting is important.

Participants

Every member of the group is a voter. Several children are called upon during the election process to carry out various tasks. The idea is to involve as many children as possible to maintain interest. The Election Tool Kit was developed for children in grade 5; however, the basic concept can be adapted by keeping only the lesson plans which best suit your class or group.

During the election simulation activity in Lesson 2, it is important to stress to students they are voting for a candidate based on their position on issues — not on their popularity with peers. We want to emphasize to students the importance of looking at a candidate's strengths, sincerity and ability to represent their constituency.

LESSON 1: YOUR RIGHT TO VOTE

Teacher Directed Discussion:

The teacher should introduce the unit with a lesson on the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms (see Background Information, page 21). Specifically discuss the democratic rights to participate in political activities (petitions, demonstrations, etc.) and the right to vote or run in elections.

Student Activity: Critical Challenge

Is voting in an election important?

During Critical Challenge the students are asked to think about a topic for which there may not be an immediate solution or correct answer, but which requires some thought. Often, “right or wrong” becomes more difficult to determine when all of the facts are known. One possible solution may cause another problem.

It is important to note that many issues from which Critical Challenge questions arise are controversial. The intent is to teach students how to think about controversial or confusing issues, isolating where possible the influence of bias, attitude or values.

Divide students into groups of 3-5. Each group must discuss reasons to support either a yes or no response to the question “Is voting in an election important?”

The teacher assigns yes or no responses to the group. Try to have an even number of yes and no groups. After a limited period of time, mix the groups so that each group contains some ‘yes’ and some ‘no’ supporters. In their new groups, the students should try to persuade each other of their individual points of view. The ‘yes’ people give their reasons to the ‘no’ people and vice versa, in order to try to change their opinion.

Teacher Directed Discussion:

The lesson should be concluded with a discussion of the reasons for supporting each of the responses. This should be followed up with a discussion of how the students feel about the issue now and how the opinions of others influenced their thinking.

Election TOOL KIT

LESSON 2: THE ELECTION PROCESS AND SIMULATION ACTIVITY

Teacher Directed Discussion:

This lesson begins with a short lesson on the three levels of government and some of the responsibilities of each.

FEDERAL: International trade agreements, communications with other countries on national issues, the defense of our country, our money system, immigration and national parks.

PROVINCIAL: Education, health care, highways, management of natural resources and provincial parks.

MUNICIPAL: Repair of sidewalks and streets, recycling, garbage, streetlights, local building regulations, public transportation, snow removal, fire, library and police.

Discuss how these three levels of government are similar to the three levels that operate within a school. The principal (federal) is responsible for the overall operation of the school, supervising teachers, support staff, and students, as well as budgets and school wide programs. The teacher (provincial) is responsible for delivery of curriculum, day to day running of the classroom, reporting to parents. The students (municipal) are responsible for their own learning and to contribute in positive ways to the school community.

Students can participate more actively and in an organized fashion if a student council exists.

Student Activity:

Students will conduct an election. The election will involve voting in an informed manner, knowing what the candidates stand for on specific issues through the candidates' campaign activities.

SIMULATION STEP-BY-STEP

Candidates

The teacher chooses four children to be candidates.

Scrutineers

Scrutineers are appointed to represent candidates at the voting station during voting (see Glossary, page 28). Have each of the four candidates appoint a scrutineer. Each scrutineer must make a Solemn Declaration of Secrecy to ensure the secrecy of the vote is maintained. Provide each scrutineer with a name tag supplied in the kit.

Election

TOOL KIT

Election Officials

Designate one child (or teacher) to play the role of the Chief Electoral Officer and give them a name tag supplied in the kit. Explain the role to the group.

The Chief Electoral Officer is an independent Officer of the Legislature. When an election is called, an Order in Council is issued ordering the Chief Electoral Officer to prepare and issue the Writ of Election. A Writ is addressed and directed to the District Electoral Officer for each electoral district in which an election is to be held.

The Chief Electoral Officer will appoint a District Electoral Officer (see Glossary, page 26) and give them a name tag supplied in the kit. The District Electoral Officer will appoint all of the other election officials (Voting Clerk and Voting Officer).

Designate two children to play the roles of Voting Clerk and Voting Officer and give each of them a name tag supplied in the kit. Explain each role to the group.

The Voting Officer is responsible for the following duties:

- announces each voter as they are issued a ballot
- ensures each voter signs the Voting Book
- issues a ballot to each voter
- receives a marked ballot from the voter
- places ballots in the ballot box, or allows voters to do so
- counts the ballots after the close of voting, using the Ballot Tally Sheet
- reports the results to the District Electoral Officer at the close of voting
- returns all materials to the District Electoral Officer

The Voting Clerk assists the Voting Officer.

The District Electoral Officer will require the Voting Clerk and Voting Officer to take an Oath of Office and sign a Solemn Declaration of Secrecy. This will ensure that voting will be conducted in a non-partisan manner and that the secrecy of the vote will be maintained. (Candidates are not permitted to also be Election Officials.)

Voters List

The Voters List is prepared by the Chief Electoral Officer for use at an election. The Voters List contains the names and addresses of registered voters in each electoral district.

During an election, the information from the Voters List is entered into Voting Books. A Voting Book is produced for each voting area. The Voting Book provides an alphabetical listing of all voters who were registered within each voting area by Day 7 of the election calendar (see Timetable of the Election Period, page 22).

Election TOOL KIT

Before voting begins, have the Voting Officer enter the name of each student alphabetically into the Voting Book by using a class list (see Voting Book template, page 10).

Voting

Set up the ballot box and voting screen according to the diagram found in Preparation, page 7. Make sure the voting screen is set up to ensure privacy to the voter. Leave a pencil behind the voting screen.

Make a list of the four candidates on the ballot (see Sample Ballot template, page 4).

Photocopy and cut the number of ballot papers required for your group.

Note: You may tell the group that, in a real election, the names of candidates are printed on the ballot paper in alphabetical order, by family names, to ensure no candidate is privileged over another.

Campaigning

While the election simulation is meant to be used by educators as a tool to introduce children to the concept of voting, it must help build their enthusiasm, arouse their curiosity and, above all, be fun. You may have the four candidates produce signs, make a speech or wave posters. The candidates may have their supporters and scrutineers help them. Class activities can include “all candidates” meetings at which candidates respond to voters’ questions, students can prepare their campaign posters, and complete writing activities focussed on an issue of interest to them.

During the election simulation activity in Lesson 2, it is important to stress to students they are voting for a candidate based on their position on issues — not on their popularity with peers. We want to emphasize to students the importance of looking at a candidate’s strengths, sincerity and ability to represent their constituency.

When the campaigning is over, have the group remain quiet until the end of voting.

Voting Simulation

- A. Explain the voting procedures to the group.
  - i. Children will come forward one at a time to the Voting Station.
  - ii. The Voting Clerk locates the voter’s name in the Voting Book.
  - iii. Each voter must sign the Voting Book before receiving a ballot.
  - iv. The Voting Officer will announce each voter as they are issued a ballot.

Election

TOOL KIT

v. Each voter will go behind the voting screen and mark the ballot with an X or ✓ by the name of the candidate of their choice.

vi. Each voter will go directly to the ballot box and drop in their folded marked ballot.

B. Once every voter has voted, the votes are counted using the following procedures.

i. The Voting Officer is to open the ballot box and empty it.

ii. The Voting Clerk will be responsible for marking the number of ballots that each voter has marked in the Ballot Tally Sheet (see Ballot Tally Sheet template, page 6).

If the voter has not clearly marked their ballot, the vote will need to be recorded as a rejected ballot on the Ballot Tally Sheet.

iii. The Voting Officer is requested to show each one of the ballots to the group and call out the name of the candidate for whom it is marked. A ballot paper is rejected if it is marked improperly (see Sample of Marked Ballot Papers, page 5).

iv. The scrutineers will be observing the counting of the ballots to ensure that they are counted correctly by the Voting Officer and Voting Clerk.

v. At the end of the counting, the Voting Officer must report the results to the District Electoral Officer.

vi. The District Electoral Officer must announce the name of the winning candidate.

C. Explain the role of the District Electoral Officer and the importance of returning the Writ. Have the District Electoral Officer complete the Certificate of Election (see Certificate of Election template, page 8) and return it to the Chief Electoral Officer.

Debrief:

Why did you vote the way you did?

Were these good reasons to vote for a particular candidate?

How do you think adults choose who to vote for?

Students should discuss the above questions in small groups. This should be followed by a whole class discussion of what the groups discussed. The teacher then introduces the concept of a fair election following the rules made for real provincial elections (see The Rules of an Election, page 22).

LESSON 3: CURRENT EVENTS

Every day the class can spend 10 minutes discussing current events and the impact these events have on each student and the community/province.

Student Activity:

Each student is responsible to bring in a provincial issue and present that issue to the class using approximately 2 minutes of class time.

Criteria for Assessment: (For assessment purposes)

Explain: Who, What, When, Where & Why

The Presentation: Clear expressive voices

Knowledge of facts is demonstrated by presenters through discussion
(presenters shouldn't just read from the article)

*Teachers: Each item could be assessed out of 5.

5 Excellent, 4 Very Good, 3 Good, 2 Satisfactory, 1 Unsatisfactory

The Speaker of the Legislative Assembly could be asked to visit the class: Students could question the Speaker on the Assembly, rules and duties.

Start a school club: Find people to join your club. Make rules and write a constitution for your club. Conduct meetings of your club.

Take a field trip to Victoria to tour the parliament buildings: Sit in the public gallery of the Legislative Chamber when the House is sitting (see the Legislative Chamber diagram, page 3).

Conduct a mock session of the Legislative Assembly: Choose one of the issues researched in Lesson #3 to debate.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

Canada is a democratic country, where the people have the right to participate in the governing of the country. There are three levels of government: federal, provincial and municipal. These various levels of government serve and protect the rights of all residents.

The right to vote is protected by the Canadian Constitution, but you must be a Canadian citizen. Voting is one way a citizen can participate in our government.

What are my rights as a Canadian Citizen?

All Canadians are protected by certain rights based on Canada's tradition of democracy and respect for human dignity and freedom. These rights are found in Canada's Human Rights Code and in the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms. All Canadians enjoy the following rights:

- equality rights: equal treatment before and under the law, and equal protection and benefit of the law without discrimination
- democratic rights: such as the right to participate in political activities, to vote and to run for political office
- legal rights: such as the right to be presumed innocent until proven guilty, the right to retain a lawyer and to be informed of that right, and the right to an interpreter in court proceedings
- mobility rights: such as the right to enter and leave Canada, and to move to and take up residence in any province
- language rights: generally, the right to use either the English or the French language in communications with Canada's federal government and some of Canada's provincial governments
- minority language education rights: in general, French and English minorities in every province and territory have the right to be educated in their own language

All Canadians also enjoy fundamental freedoms of religion, thought, expression, peaceful assembly, and association.

THE RULES OF AN ELECTION

The Writ

The Canadian Constitution states that all provinces, including British Columbia, hold general elections every five years. An election is called by the issuing of an Order in Council directing the Chief Electoral Officer to prepare and issue the Writ of Election. A Writ is addressed and directed to the District Electoral Officer of each electoral district in which an election is to be held.

Before the five-year term is complete, the Premier of the province announces the date for General Voting Day. This is known as “Dropping the Writ”.

Election Period

An election period is generally 51 days in duration. This period starts on the day the Writ is issued to the District Electoral Officer and ends on the day the Writ is returned to the Chief Electoral Officer.

Timetable of the Election Period

Day 0	Writ Day
Day 6	Beginning of nomination period
Day 7	Closing Day for general voter registration
Day 15	End of nomination period
Day 28	General Voting Day
Day 41	Final count begins
Day 50	Return of Writ

Deciding How to Vote

During an election, candidates use the media to state their ideas about local and provincial issues, and why they feel they would be the best representative if elected. Candidates can be representatives of political parties, or can run as independents.

Based on the position that candidates take on local and provincial issues, voters decide what party or candidate best represents their own views and then vote for the best candidate.

Voting hours on General Voting Day are from 8 am to 8 pm. Prior to the opening of the voting places, all ballot boxes are checked to ensure that they are empty. All voting officials and candidate representatives must sign the Declaration of Secrecy. When the voting places close, only those voters who entered the voting place prior to 8 pm are permitted to cast their ballots. No campaign materials are permitted in voting places, or within 100 metres of voting places.

Profile on Elections BC

As a non-partisan Office of the Legislature, Elections BC is responsible for the impartial administration of provincial elections, referendums, recalls and initiatives as well as voter registration and outreach.

The Election Act

The Election Act came into force in September 1995. Some of the highlights include:

Voter Access

- Voting places must be accessible to those with physical disabilities.
- Voting by mail is open to all voters who are unable to attend Advance or General Voting.
- Special Voting makes it easy for people in extended care facilities, hospitals or remote work sites to vote.
- Any voter who is not registered can register when they vote.

Openness

- Political parties and constituency associations must register with Elections BC in order to issue tax receipts for political donations and to incur election expenses.
- Political party registration information is available for public inspection.
- Full disclosure of election contributions and expenses is required of candidates and registered parties.
- All election advertising must disclose the sponsor.

In addition to administering the Election Act which affects provincial elections and referendums, Elections BC maintains and updates the provincial Voters List, trains election officials and registration personnel, prepares and distributes election materials and supplies, and publishes information about the election and voter registration. Following an election, the Chief Electoral Officer reviews procedures and legislation and reports the election results to the Legislature.

To register as a provincial voter, an individual must:

- be a Canadian citizen;
- be 18 years of age or older on General Voting Day for the election; and,
- be a resident of British Columbia for at least six months immediately preceding General Voting Day for the election.

The following people are not permitted to vote in provincial elections:

- the Chief Electoral Officer and the Deputy Chief Electoral Officer; and
- an individual who is imprisoned in a penal institution serving a sentence of two years or more.

Election TOOL KIT

Role of the Chief Electoral Officer

The Chief Electoral Officer (CEO) is an independent officer of the Legislature. The CEO can make rulings, regulations and exercise responsibilities of the position in a totally impartial manner. To enhance this impartial position, the CEO cannot be a member of any political party, make contributions to a party or candidate or vote in any provincial election.

How to Become a Candidate

To qualify for nomination as a candidate in a provincial election, an individual must be:

- a Canadian citizen;
- 18 years of age or older on General Voting Day for the election; and,
- a resident of British Columbia for at least six months immediately before becoming a candidate.

An individual who meets the qualifications must file a complete nomination in order to become a candidate. This involves filing the required nomination documents, including the signatures of 25 nominators from the electoral district in which the individual is seeking election, and paying a $100 nomination deposit. An individual does not become a candidate until a complete nomination has been made and accepted, and a Certificate of Candidacy has been issued.

Certificates of Candidacy cannot be issued until an election is called.

A nominator does not have to be registered as a voter, but must meet the qualifications to be a voter.

Nomination Kits are available from the Chief Electoral Office.

Important Dates in British Columbia Election History

- 1953 The voting age is lowered to 19 from 21 years of age.
- 1977 Liquor sales are allowed on election day.
- 1985 The term ‘British subject’ is dropped as a qualification to vote.
